

JYC COURIER

JYC Racing

After a very cold spring with lots of fog, here we are into the 2nd week of JYC summer racing with some more wild weather which had us cancelling a race! Hopefully, you all stayed safe in port for the evening. With the weather and water temps warming up, here's hoping for some good racing. Class splits are set for the summer and if the first race is an indication, everyone is out sailing with us.

Notable upcoming events include our break in the summer series for the Crew Rotation Race on August 4th. I am also trying to organize the Racing Social for that evening. More to follow via email and our JYC website.

A summary of the 2015 Race Circular changes is available at the JYC website attached as the last page to the Race Circular. Please check it out.

Many thanks to our Race Committee volunteers. Without you, we couldn't conduct the races!

See you all on the water!

As a reminder as our membership period draws to a close, members who are not in good standing and have been terminated, are not eligible to participate in JYC events, including racing and social events. This includes racing/attending as a guest of a current member. Your attention to this matter is appreciated.

JYC Fleet Captain/RC Chairperson

JYC Cruising

A fabulous 'Document' has been prepared describing this year's cruise taking place August 1 – 9 and has been distributed to all that expressed an interest in participating. It is also available on the JYC.ORG website for anyone interested in viewing it.

From the Commodore

The weather has not been our best friend on Tuesdays so far this year, but we're looking forward to better cooperation. We have some events coming up that we hope you will consider attending. The picnic this year is on a non-racing afternoon and should be a lot of fun.

For general information, the following Yacht clubs Have sent us letters of reciprocity: Sayville YC, Blue Point, NY; Shewsbury River YC, Fairhaven; NJ. Savin Hill YC, Dorchester, MA; The Atlantic Highlands YC, Atlantic Highlands NJ; East Greenwich YC, East Greenwich, R.I ; Huguenot YC, New Rochelle, NY.
